

Winstons Cumulative Encyclopedia (Classic Reprint)

Three methods are used to indicate the pronunciation of the words forming the headings of the separate articles: (1) By dividing the word into syllables, and indicating the syllable or syllables to be accented. This method alone is followed where the pronunciation is entirely obvious. Where accent marks are omitted, the omission indicates that all syllables are given substantially the same value. (2) Where the pronunciation differs from the spelling, the word is re-spelled phonetically, in addition to the accentuation. (3) Where the sound values of the vowels are not sufficiently indicated merely by an attempt at phonetic spelling, the following system of diacritical marks is additionally employed to approximate the proper sounds as nearly as may be done: f as in fote or In i Mnre. I, as in alma, Fr. dme Ger. Bmms Aof Indian names. il, the same sound as abort or medium, as in Fr. baU *Ger.
