

Heavy Water And Other Stories

In Martin Amis short stories whole worlds are created - or inverted. In Straight Fiction, everyone is gay, apart from the beleaguered straight community; in Career Move, screenplay writers submit their works to little magazines, while poets are flown first-class to Los Angeles; in The Janitor of Mars, a sardonic robot gives us some strange news about life in the solar system. In Let Me Count the Times a man has a mad affair with himself. Heavy Water, portrays the exhaustion of working-class culture, and State of England its weird resuscitation. And in The Coincidence of the Arts an English baronet becomes entangled with an African-American chess hustler.
