

TACSIM MAGAZINE

The Tactical MilSim Magazine is produced with the help of professional writers as well as contributions from many highly respected veterans, servicemen, and valued customers who have helped shape the tactical training and simulation community. Tactical MilSim Magazine offers reviews of tactical training & simulation technology and tactical gear, comprehensive technical reviews, and inspirational stories, as well as tips and tricks from the veterans who have been there and done that. No other publication today either online or in print can compete with the level of experience and training in the subject of tactical simulation from the professionals who lived it.
