

Lear Limericks and Literature, a Poetry and Creative Writing Unit Plan

This literature unit study, created by Beverly L. Adams-Gordon, introduces your students to the zany rhymes made famous by Edward Lear in the late 1800s. The lessons use limericks to introduce a number of basic poetic devices. Understanding and using these devices can improve the students general and creative writing. They also serve as models for teaching the disciplined, systematic art of limerick and poetry writing. Adaptable for students in kindergarten through college levels, highly recommended for grades 5 through 8th.
