

Mutter Museum 2012 Calendar

With an annual visitorship exceeding 100,000, the Mutter Museum has become Americas most popular medical museum. Featured on the Discovery channel and The Late Show with David Letterman, the Mutter Museums collection originated more than 150 years ago with Dr. Thomas Dent Mutter, a 19th-century Philadelphia surgeon who collected unique anatomic and pathological materials for his personal teaching museum: bones; air-dried, varnished anatomic specimens; plaster casts; fluid-preserved specimens; wax and papier-mache models; and oil and watercolor paintings. The collection grew to include such oddities as the death cast and connected livers of the legendary Siamese twins Chang and Eng, the skeleton of a 7 6 giant, and Dr. Chevalier Jacksons collection of more than 2,000 swallowed objects removed from the throats and airways of his patients. The eleventh in this highly regarded series, the Mutter Museum 2012 Calendar presents 12 new images of the museums fascinating collection by a renowned group of photographers who have turned their attention to the unexpected art inherent in the study of medical science.
